Changes at Our Trials

We gave it the old college try, but having paid crew/scribes etc. is just not working out anymore. It is becoming more difficult to find dependable crew and paid crew was only financially feasible for larger trials. Even with the higher entry fee of $16, the smaller trials were not breaking even and that's all we ask. Paying crew for the larger trials worked out financially, however many of the trials last year were small and changes had to be made.

So, starting with our first trial this year, we will not be providing paid crew and instead will be requiring that exhibitors work one or two classes as has become the norm. Entries fees will be lowered to reflect this change (see entry form inside). Our prize list and awards will also be trimmed to reflect these changes.

We have always had many people come forward and help at our trials, even with the hired crew on hand, so we don't anticipate many of you will notice the change. We have always noticed and been grateful to those of you who pitched in. We really appreciated your generosity and a huge "thanks" to all of you!
